Interesting from Honduras. OUR BELIZE CORRESPONDENCE.

BELLER, HONDURAS, Oct. 26, 1858. an Ravages and War, Followed by Commercial Failures—Affairs of Hyde, Hodge & Oo.—Trade Very Dull— Mahogany and Sugar Exports—Fine Weather—Public Health Good—The Provision Market, &s.

There seems to be no end to the strange events which are to transpire in this town during the current year. Buring the first part of it we were in a state of alarm in segard to the Indians up at the north. Then came the Corosal, San Estaven and San Padro, by a band of discontented desperadoes residing on the northern borders tion of the same gang, to fire this town, and to murder and rob some of our citizens, all of which you were adof two of the parties who had conspired to burn this town, to murder and rob some of our citizens, and the severe sentence on the couvicts, of imprisonment at hard labor own once in each six months during the term.

Next came the astounding news of the failure of the bouse of Hyde, Hodge & Co., of London, which carried down the house of James Hyde & Co., of this town, and, sonsequent on them the houses of J. Carmichael, of Liversheal, Vidul & Co., and it is feared others will have to follow, as nearly all are large creditors to Hyde, Hodge & Co., who are supposed to owe near two millions of pounds storling. receiving on interest the moneys of parties here who had meney to put at interest. In nearly every case these sums of money so deposited comprise the all of the depositors, who, if they are not paid, will be ruined. They are in many instances widows, children, maids and old people, who are now reduced to beggary, or will be if the attempt now being made by some of the large crediters of England to merge the claims of James Hyde & Co., of Belize, with those of Hyde, Hodge & Co., of London, does not succeed. There has been a meeting of the creditors of James Hyde & Co. in Belize; but as they had no organization or head, and no concert or system of action, Mr. Hodge manget to get a resolution passed at that meeting to refer the matter to Chief Justice Temple, of our Supreme Court. This course was firmly opposed by the business men here; but they were overruled by the inexperienced, who all think Chief Justice Temple will decide in their favor on the score of their poverty and want.

shink Chief Justice Temple will decide in their favor on the score of their poverty and want.

This is a very important question to this settlement—and it is a question of some consequence to the commercial world—as the firm of James Hyde & Co. are abundantly solvent, they having more than two and a half dollars in good property here for every dollar they owe, while the firm of Hyde, Hodge & Co., of London, owe thirty dollars for every dollar of assets. The house here has been conducted fairly, honestly and presperensly, while that in London has been a stock (coolie) and African speculation, sustained by the cash deposits of the people in this town.

In consequence of failures business is very dull. Money is very scarce, and there is no such thing as confidence; each seeks after what is due him and will take no denial. Credit is suspended, and worse and more of it seems to be ahead.

Our mahogany cutters have done well this year-be ahead.

Our mahogany cutters have done well this year—that is, they have got out large quantiles of good wood; but prices are very low here and in England, besides which there are large quantities of last year's cutting still on hand unsold. This will soon be forced into market, and sold, most likely, at a great sacribce, which will seriously affect our solvent houses here in the wood outling business. Large quantities of sugar and rum have been raised this year at the northward, some of which has been exported to New Orleans and to New York; but how it is done is a mystery to me, as it is worth $6 here, cash, which with freight, commissions and duty in the United States, will exceed $5 per 100 lbs. And how it can be done, and made to pay, is the mystery.

We are now enjoying very delightfur weather. Our town is quite healthy, and our mahogany cutters are coming in for the Christmas.

There is nothing new from the Indians in Yucatan. Our soldiers who were up to the borders of our territory have returned to Beilze. From Guatamala, Honduras and San Salvador there is nothing new since my last.

Our provision market is well supplied with everything. Our market for cochineal, indige, sarsaparilla and ores is very active.

BELIZE, HONDURAS, Oct. 27, 1858. Judicial Decision in the Case of Hyde & Co.—Two New York Vessels Leaving Port—Admiration of them by the Residents of the Town—Preparing for a Race, &c.

Since my last a decision has been given in the Supremo Court by the Chief Justice and the two newly made judges, n relation to a sum of money which had been deposited in the hands of James Hyde & Co., in trust for the deposi-tor, subject to his call, but which sum Mr. Hodge refused books of his firm by his cashier in the regular way, and by this had become a part of the effects of James Hyde & by this had become a part of the effects of James Hyde & Co.; but the Court decided this sum was not the property of James Hyde & Co., and that that firm must pay the amount over to the depositor forthwith. This decision gave very general satisfaction, and the parties who hold claims against them for money deposited are sanguling they will all get paid in full. This is just, and if done will be of immense benefit to this town, as it will restore to a great number of poor people their only means of subsistence. All of the other creditors have submitted their claims to the Chief Justice, who will give his opinion on Thursday next, the 28th inst., whether by the laws of this settlement the creditors of Belize are not entitled to be paid in full immediately.

The bark D. Jex, Guide, master, and the bark Honduras, Bates, master, both of your city, and both fine new vessels and crack sailers, are now weighing anchor for seis and crack sailers, are now weighing anchor for your port. Our whole town is up and looking on. Two of the finest vessels that come into this harbor—both Yankees—are to start together. The whole nautical part of our world of Belize have taken sides, and strong arguments and high words are already being used by the chambions of each.

The English Authorities and the Wrecked Americans—The Comet—Indications of a Tremendous Storm—An Unknown

I regret that a letter written to you on the 18th August last did not reach you. It was sent via Key West, and related to the investigation into the cause of the loss of the American ship Montpelier, Ciay, master.

The local authorities claim, under an act of Assembly, o examine and inquire into all wrecks which take place in Bahama waters, English or foreign, and whether there has been collusion between the wrecked captain and the

You will observe that Captain Sheldon, of the Japonica, resisted the demand made upon him:—

Nassau, N. P., Aug. 12, 1858.

Sim—I have received your letter invaling me to be present at the investigation to be made by you at your oldes at sen orders, and the investigation to be made by you at your oldes at sen orders, an Friday morning. Bith inst., into the causes and circumstances connected with the loss of the American bark Japonica, lately under my command. I have also received your formal requisition to produce my log book, register, simpling articles and manifest. I beg respectfully to decline your invitation, and to state that some of my papers and books are in the hands of the United States Consol, and some are in my own possession, and they cannot be given up without my consecutor sametion. I feel it my duty as an American cutizon, having committed no offence against the laws of this colony, to take this course, and I hope to be justified in it by my own powerment, and by those who are interested in the property I have had the misfortune to lose. Your examination can be of no real service to me, but, on the contrary, exposed to the misstonemis of ignorant seamen, or of wreckers, might do me essential damage. To the parties who have entrusted me with their property I am willing to give the fullest account of my disaster, and expect to do so on my return to the United States, and if you have any charges to make against me I am ready and willing to neet them as well as I can.

I am further willing to undergo any fair examination before the Consul of my country, but am not willing, as a clining or so in reality at would teo before a foreign tribunal without any crime having been adepend against me.

W. B. Silfaldow, master of late back Japonica.

The comet has been visible here with the naked eye from the 27th ult. It is now far south and very faint-

The wind for a week or more has been blowing from the northeast, and for several days a strong gale. Indeed northeast, and for several days a strong gale. Indeed every one was preparing for a hurricane, as the barometer fell considerably.

For three days post the sea has been lashing the Heg Island shore most vigorously. The breakers come rolling down the shore for a mile, dashing and frolleking along, and bursting as they go to an enormous height. The sight is grand beyond comparison. Niagara is not so splended. That is monotonous, while this, Proteus like, assumes every shape and form. As the breakers reach the lighthouse at the Foint they expend their fury in dashing the white crested foam equal with its height, while the body of the water washes across the island and gives it the appearance of being, for a moment, covered with snow. The passage from the keeper's house to the lighthouse is almost impassable. The keeper was lastinghts severely migrad by the rollers dashing high on the rocks, and but for timely assistance would have been drowned. The light was reached with difficulty to be lighted.

No versel can come or go over the bar now, with roller forty or fitty feet high. There is not wing inhabitant wh lighted.

No vessel can come or go over the bar now, with rollerforty or fifty feet high. There is no living inhabitant whremembers ever to have seen such a sea as this. It betokens that there has been a great storm elsewhere. The roads at the west end of the island are in a fleet.

The American schooner Moollight, G. F. Tathill, master, came it leart night through the eastern passage.

The wreckers got 33% per cent as salvage in the case of the Stephen F. Austin.

A report has come from Eleuthera that there are the remnants of a large vessel on the shore completely broken to pieces. No one is supposed to Nave escaped alive.
Nothing has been found by which the vessel can be identified.

DOUBLE ELOPEMENT .- Week before last a man DOUBLE ELOFEMENT.—Week before last a man named Joshua King, a quack doctor and a local preacher in the M. E. church (North), living on Elk river, in Nicholas county, about twenty-eight miles from this place, eioped with two grown daughters of Mr. Michael Griffin, leaving his wife and a large family in deathets circumstances. King owned a good farm, and was, before this convergence, considered an upright man. He sold, on leaving, his farm, which was supposed to be worth $2,000, for $500 in ready maney, so great was his desire to get away. Great exott ment prevails in the neighborhood, and it is thought that he will be followed; but up to this time rottom is known of his whereabouts.—Kusawka (Vi.)

Marine Court. Before Hon. Judge Thompson.

POLITICAL BETTING. Nov. 18.—Thomas O'Riley vs. John McGuire and Wil-Kam Robinson.—In September last Riley made a bet of $102 with McGuire that one John Lynch was not a member of the Democratic County Convention of 1857. The ber of the Democratic County Convention of 1857. The maon: y was deposited in the hands of the defendant, Robinson. This action is brought to recover back the amount of the wager.

Thomas N, J.—It is provided by statute that "All wagers, bees or stakes, made to depend upon any race, or upon any principly by lot or chance, or upon any lot, chance, casual y, or unknown or contingent event whatever, shall be unknown. All contracts for or on account of any money or preperty, or thing in action so wagered, bet or staked, shall be void." (2 R. S., 72.) It is very certain that the plait lift cannot recover under the statute, for the bet in question depended upon neither of the contingencies therein enumerated. Is is void then at common law? Wagers are not void unless they affect the interests, feelings or character of third persons, or lead to indecent evidence, or are centrary to public policy, or tend to immortality or to a breach of some law. (2 Pars. on Con., 261.) So far as this wager is concerned it can in no possible manner affect any principle of public policy which I can imagine. It is a matter in which society can take no kind of interest nor suffer any conceivable injury. It can only affect the person who has foolishly and improvidently lost his money. If it were the duty of the courts to find remedies for all the silly acts of inconsiderate men, it would involve the necessity for a number of tribunals which the community would scarcely feel disposed to create. Neither by statute nor at common law can the plantiff maintain this action. Judgment, therefore, for the defendants, with costs.

Before Hon. Judgment, therefore, for the defendants, with costs.

Before Hon. Judge McCarthy.

ACTION FOR FALSE ARREST OF A LADY. Nov. 17.—Edwin Robinson and Mary his wife vs. William A. Moore.—This action is brought to recover 2500, for assault, false arrest and malicious prosecution. It was alleged by Messrs. Hurley & O'Rourke, for the plaintiffs, that on the 16th of October last Mrs. Robinson went to that on the 16th of October last Mrs. Robinson went to the defendant's store to purchase a pair of gloves', but not being suited, she asked one of the lady attendants to allow her to adjust her dress. She was subsequently charged with stealing a pair of gloves, was arrested and triod at the Sessions, where she was acquitted. The defence was a general denial and that there was probable cause for the suspicion. The plaintiffs' counsel offered to put Mrs. Robinson on the stand to explain the transaction, but the Court decided that a woman could not be a witness for her husband, and refused to allow her to be examined. The counsel having summed up, the Judge amined. The counsel having summed up, the Jud charged the jury that in an action of this kind the charged the jury that in an action of this kind the defendant must prove that there was probable cause for the arrest of the plaintiff's wife, and that the fact of her having been acquitted of the charge was not sufficient to entitle her to damages; but it was incumbent on the lady to prove that her arrest was made from malicious motives or without any probable cause. The Court also observed that if the defendant believed in his own mind that a theft was committed, (although it should turn out that he was mistaken,) he would not be liable. If the jury believed that the plaintiff was entitled to recover, then they should give her all her expenses and a compensation for the injuries to her character. Verdict for plaintiff $20.

Supreme Court-Circuit.

Before Hon. Judge Mullin. Nov. 17 .- Valentine Luze and Wife vs. - Meyers .- This was an action to recover $5,000 for injuries sustained by Mrs. Luze, while on a voyage to this country, on board Mrs. Laze, while on a voyage to this country, on board the ship Yorktown, from London. It was alleged that in August, 1856, the plaintiff and his wife took passage on board the Yorktown, and during the voyage a plank fell down and struck Mrs. Luze, fracturing her leg and arm. For the defence it was set up that the master of the ship was not liable for personal injuries sustained by passencers. Dr. Carnechan and other physicians deposed that the injuries were not so severe as represented. Verdict for plaintiff $560.
